Principal's Message

E.D.S.S. always has had the reputation of being a "good, sound school". This, of course, was because our graduates who continued to post-secondary education were outstanding in the colleges or universities of their choice. Our vocational graduates were regarded by employers as very capable and conscientious. Our athletes have enjoyed much success beyond our school walls. Our graduates have been good citizens. This was accomplished at E.D.S.S. by a school system which is now being phased out of existence in Ontario and which is to be replaced by the "credit system".

The new system will eliminate grades and lock-step classes as we know them. The Branches of Study: Arts & Science, Business and Commerce, Science Technology and Trades will disappear. Five-year, Four-year and Two-year courses will be phased into a new multi-level scheme. In short, the whole school structure will be changed.

The basic elements in the new pattern (as stated by the Ontario Department of Education) are:

- "the utilization of a CREDIT SYSTEM as a means to greater freedom of student choice within an expanding range of curricular choices; (27 credits taken at any year level, at any level of difficulty will earn a Secondary School Graduation Diploma).
- the organization of student curricular choices on the basis of broad AREAS OF STUDY to ensure awareness of each of these areas of man's experience, (the prescribed "areas" are COMMUNICATIONS, SOCIAL SCIENCE, PURE AND APPLIED SCIENCES and ARTS.)
- the ADAPTATION OF COURSES of study within the school so that a student may be able to choose a program which will allow him to achieve his full potential; and
- the creation of more flexible schedule patterns permitting INDIVIDUAL TIME-TABLES for students in relation to their changing needs and interests, abilities and achievements."

This new system can be a boon to E.D.S.S. if we realize that the system alone cannot make ours a good school or a bad school. It is what we do with or within the system which determines that. The change can be refreshing and beneficial if we make it so. Used wisely, the new system can give students a much broader choice of subjects and still continue to give them what they need when they graduate. Students will be able to build on their strengths and interests, avoiding courses in which they lack interest and/or ability. The inherent danger lies in a student's never trying some very important subject, perhaps essential for his further education. The new system can and undoubtedly will eliminate courses and probably subjects which are no longer needed for a liberal education. We must beware, however, of killing a subject simply because it is difficult or because the teacher is unpopular. These are not sound criteria for assessing a subject's real worth.

The old, traditional system produced good results at Elmira. I am sure we can make the new system work even better. Change is inevitable. Neither an individual student nor a school can stand still. We must either advance or fall back. E.D.S.S. shall advance!

Time out for business

Vice-Principal Mr. Pullen

Time out for play

We at E. D. S. S. were very pleased to welcome Mr. Pullen to the staff this year.

Mr. Pullen came to us from Grand River Collegiate, where he spent five years teaching English. He has also taught English in Seaforth and in Preston.

His background in English gives us good reason to understand his love of reading, -- a love which extends into all types of books, including history, geography, science fiction, to name a few. Some of his other interests include antique finishing and skiing.

Mr. Pullen's first impression of the typical E. D. S. S. student was sensible, and described the student body as being traditional, meaning the students act like students. "The good things of tradition preserved" summed up Mr. Pullen's first views of E. D. S. S. During the coming years, I hope that we give him no reason to change his mind.

Mr. Conlon

Our guidance department plays a vital role in directing and counselling the confused and frustrated students here at E. D. S. S.

Mr. Dyck seems lost for words?

Connie and Vonnice are always up to something.

In this everchanging world of ours we cannot stand still. We must move with the times and science and math is where "it's at." If it were not for the advances in these fields we would still be living in the stone age. These subjects encourage us to think and also to seek solutions to the many questions since left unanswered. Science and Mathematics help us to hold our own in this ever advancing world of ours.

English—Appreciation of Great Literary Works

English teaches us the appreciation of great literary works, both today's and yesterday's.

The fascinating world of Shakespeare and Shelley, of similes and metaphors is revealed to us through the teaching of our very capable English staff.

Children must expand their inquisitive minds!

Languages Lead to Better Communication

The language department is comprised of French, German, and Latin.

In this world of rapid communication where Europe is only hours away, a knowledge of these languages is becoming increasingly important.

Latin develops a better understanding of our English language. French enables us to attempt communication with our compatriots. Many of us have some German in our background, so the German language has much to do with our culture.

It is surprising how much of our language is derived from these foreign languages and therefore we are able to gain a better understanding of our language.

Resource Centre

As more stress is placed on independent study, we as students and teachers can make use of a wide range of facilities offered by the Resource Centre. These include: books, periodicals, papers, and non-print materials.

—A Study of Time and Environment

Things change with the passing of time.
Geography and History explain that change.

Geography is the study of man's relationship to his environment.

History is the study of the past which influences
the present.

Mr. Riedstra

Mr. Gilpin

In this world of free expression, the students at E. D. S. S. are certainly involved. They have spent long, hard hours preparing our musical "The Music Man." To complement this, the band and glee club have made a terrific advancement--all to better E. D. S. S.

Technical Program: Emphasis on Student's Needs

The technical programme at E.D.S.S. has really two emphasis. One is geared to providing a strong base for students intending to take further trade training in industry; the other is aimed at providing a general knowledge of technical principles for students who desire to further their understanding of our technological world. As well, both prepare the student for further education at College, of that is his desire.

A Special Hello to Our Exchange Student...

Aljandra Flores, comes from Mexico City.

How do you like Canada?

"I really like Canada, especially the snow because we don't have it at home. Canadian people are very friendly and they speak clearly and slower than the Americans."

How do you like E.D.S.S.?

"I truly feel at home. The first day I didn't know anyone and was very lost, but later, everyone wanted to be friends with me."

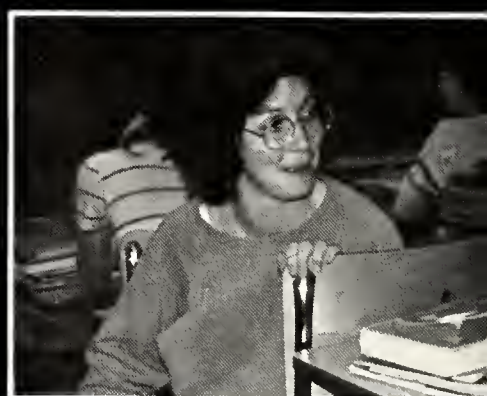

Is it a big change living in Canada?

"Yes. Besides the language, our school hours are different. We go to school straight through from 8:00 a.m. to 2:00 without eating. But I like living here, and when I leave, I'll have two home countries, Mexico and Canada."

“You have had time on your hands-time which forged your personality. You have borrowed gym socks, gone to wrong classes, forgotten lunches and sneaked down the centre stairs.

Class discipline has never worried you. You have thrown chalk, passed notes and scribbled terribly vital gossip. You have skimmed on your homework, and gone without lunch to complete it. You have been confused and unpredictable. Nevertheless, you were going places. You were full of ideas and had a special confidence in yourself.”

Athletic Committee

'71-'72 proved to be another fantastic year for Athletic Council. With budgeting and the new financial system, organization improved within the council.

To great executive resulted in co-operation between councils, which benefited all students to make the greatest year we've ever had at E. D. S. S.

Thanks to a lot of beautiful people, Winter Carnival proved to be a great success. We held several good sports nights, as a result of some close, exciting games, fun, sock-hops, and good participation.

All of our athletic teams did a great job this year, and their enthusiastic contributions to the school are really appreciated. Special thanks are due to all the coaches for all their time and effort, especially those two, super-stars, Mr. Thompson and Mr. Kalbfleisch. Thanks for a good year.

The boys' volleyball teams had a successful and very enjoyable season in the fall of 1971. Both teams were capable of defeating any other District 11 team on a good day, resulting in some close and fiercely-contested battles.

The senior team lost a tight play-offs battle to the first place G.C.I. team by 3 games to 2. The junior team was also edged out of the play-offs. Mr. Kaubfleisch, the senior coach, and Mr. Sebastian, the junior coach, should be congratulated on the fine showings of their teams.

Girls' Volleyball

On any team, togetherness and team spirit are key words. This year's volleyball teams displayed a greater amount of sportsmanship than ever before, and although we were not successful enough to reach play-off positions, we had an enjoyable and rewarding year under the direction of our coaches, Mrs. Eisfeld and Mrs. Monahan.

The basketball scene was tough on all the boys teams this year. The teams moved into a tougher division playing such powerhouses as W.O. and G.C.I. For all the teams it proved to be a building year.

The senior boys under the excellent coaching of Mr. Thompson fought their way to a 2-8 win, loss record. Rick Martin was top scorer averaging 25 points a game.

The juniors under the able coaching of Mr. Strupp had their difficulties. The team managed to come up with a 3-11 win, loss record. Top scorers were Dale MacPherson and Kevin Mitchell.

The midget team was coached by Rick Martin and Doug Crane who tried to teach the basic skills of the game. Mr. Dyck also helped at the early morning practices. The midgets should prove to be an asset to the junior team.

Cross-Country

Elmira's cross-country teams got off to a good start in the fall of 1971, winning a number of preliminary meets against local schools.

One week later the C.W.O.S.S.A. cross-country meet at Orangeville was overtaken by Elmira for the second year in a row. Junior and Midget titles were returned, while Seniors finished not far off first place. The two winning teams went on to all-Ontario cross-country at Woodbridge, with an individual qualifier, Vince Mayne.

Vince Mayne

Three Cheers for the New Girls' Cross-Country Team

In its first year of competition the Girls' Cross-Country Team won two out of three races entered. These were major victories, one being the Senior Division of District 11 held at Southwood Collegiate, Galt, the other the Senior Division of C.W.O.S.S.A. held this year at Brantford, Ontario.

Although the team numbered only six girls they demonstrated what determination, hard work and Mr. Thompson's coaching could accomplish.

Hopefully the Girls' Cross-Country Team has justified its existence and will win even more supporters in September. Next year's team has a lot to live up to.

Rough and Ready - That's Our Lancer Hockey Team!

Lancers v.s. Teachers.

If you want to know what school spirit is then watch an E.D.S.S. Lancer Hockey Game. We maybe didn't have any Bobby Orr's but we surely had a fighting spirit and this made up for any of our losses. Every game we played we strove to win and give a good showing for E.D.S.S.

I feel all who played on the team accomplished this and gave E.D.S.S. as a whole, some new recognition.

Students' Council

In the constitution of the Students' Council one of the purposes of the organization is the co-ordination of the societies and organization of our school. This purpose has been very important this year. Everyone has worked hard and participated much to make this year full of enjoyment and experience.

Often things have appeared rough but by working together and getting "a little help from our friends" we have made the school year enjoyable.

The council members have done a hard job, largely unlauded so now I would like to thank every one of them. We have co-operated to promote the interest of the students and every one has benefited.

It has been a pleasure for me personally to serve the people of E. D. S. S. The "job" of president is not a task but a privilege and I am happy to have had the honour.

Arts Committee

This year was the first for the Arts Committee, so it was largely experimental. Our biggest and best undertaking was our musical "The Music Man". Hopefully in the future the Arts Committee will play a broader role in our school life.

This fast-moving age of technology, man seems to be growing less individual, and important things like creativity and imagination are suffering. If our lives are going to have any deep dimension of meaning we must learn again to turn our faces to the sky, to explore music, to create beauty, to "go placidly amid the noise and haste". Then our civilization will truly be a remarkable one.

Special Events Committee

The Special Events Committee is an organization which brings fun'n'games to the students at E.D.S.S. This year, the committee offered band dances, record hops, movies, swimming parties and various other Friday night activities. The success of these activities caused one student to say that "fifty-billion butterfly sneezes couldn't have caused a bigger scene." This slight exaggeration illustrates quite clearly the satisfaction most students feel not only in the Special Events Committee, but in E.D.S.S. on the whole.

If there is any criticism that we as the S.E.C. executive could offer, it is in regard to the manner in which the Committee was constituted. Each member was elected to office by a general student body vote and as a result most classes tried to "stick" the "loser" with the "job". Unfortunately attendance and participation within the council itself was so poor that we tried to have it dissolved three times. It is hoped that next year's committee will be composed of individuals who are truly interested in bringing happiness to the students of E.D.S.S. Only then will the full potential of a committee of this nature be realized.

We would like to thank many people for their support throughout the school year 1971-1972. Foremost on this list are Mr. Kendall, Mr. Kaubfleisch, Mr. Vandenbroucke and the janitorial staff. Their contributions in time and effort were vital to the success of almost every activity. Thank you one and all.

Search for Truth

The most significant quest of mankind is the never-ending quest for wisdom, knowledge, and understanding - all three of which arise from the search for truth. Throughout the school year, students from varying religious backgrounds have come together to experience the finding of this truth in the person of Jesus Christ. The resultants of truth - love, peace, and joy - have pervaded the lives of many people, who continue to share their new life with others who are searching for truth.

Special Events

Commencement

"DO I DARE DISTURB
THE UNIVERSE? "

Mr. Chairman, Guests, Parents, Teachers and Students:

By addressing you in the traditional, formal manner, I have classified you under closed categories. In the fourteenth century Geoffrey Chaucer defined a student:

"He gave most care to study and most heed;
Never a word he spoke beyond his need.
His speech was framed in form and reverence,

Pointed and quick and always packed with sense.
Moral his mind, and virtuous his speech;
And gladly would he learn, and gladly teach."

Not daring to deliver any definitions of the other categories, I will re-address you as human beings, children of the universe.

When I recall my experiences at the Elmira District Secondary School, my first feeling is one that Shakespeare expressed. "Like as the waves make towards the pebbled shore, So do our minutes hasten to their end..."

Yes our end has come to an established order. Unmistakenly, "To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven." Even long ago in Camelot when Sir Bedivere, the sole remaining knight, cried to his dying King Arthur:

"Ah! my Lord Arthur, whither shall I go?
Where shall I hide my forehead and my eyes? "
"And slowly answered Arthur from the barges;

"The old order changeth, yielding place to new,
And God fulfils Himself in many ways,
Lest one good custom should corrupt the world..."

Fellow human beings, you graduates in particular, do not hide your eyes! The universe is unfolding!

"There is a tide in the affairs of men
Which taken at the flood leads on to fortune;
Omitted, all the voyage of their life
If bound in shallows and in miseries.

On such a full sea are we now afloat,
And we must take the current when it serves,
Or lose our ventures."

Thomas Stearns Eliot tells some of us about incomplete human beings bound in shallows. These are the men with no awareness and no perception, vegetating in our age without belief, without value, without meaning. ('Mistah Kurtz - he dead. A penny for the Old Guy.')

"We are the hollow men
We are the stuffed men
Leaning together
Headpiece filled with straw. Alas!
Our dried voices, when

We whisper together
Are quiet and meaningless
As wind in dried glass
Or rats' feet over broken glass
In our dry cellars."

One might say that the world consists of imperfect human beings, more or less ignorant of their own selves and not knowing the way to be happy. If they commit evil, which seems to them to be worse, or obtain another good, which seems to them to be worse, or obtain another good, which seems attractive if only because it is not in their possession. In Shakespeare's terms, the literary Macbeth expressed the hopelessness of a human being to whom the universe no longer has any meaning.

"To-morrow and to-morrow and to-morrow
Creeps in this petty pace from day to day,
To the last syllable of recorded time;
And all our yesterdays have lighted fools
The way to dusty death. Out, out, brief candle!

Life's but a walking shadow; a poor player
That struts and frets his hour upon the stage,
And then is heard no more; it is a tale
Told by an idiot, full of sound and fury,
Signifying nothing."

But yet, there is a spark of hope. Remember? !

"You are a child of the universe, no less than the trees & stars; you have a right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should. Therefore be at peace with God, whatever you conceive Him to be, and whatever your labors and aspirations, in the noisy confusions of life keep peace with your soul. With all its sham, drudgery & broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Be careful. Strive to be happy.

Casino Royale? !? ?

Close up, is for CLOSE-UPS!!

"Simon says and Debbie does? "

We sang and we laughed and ate and we were all part of a really together experience!!

Watcha brewing witch?

Awaiting 'the Great Pumpkin'.

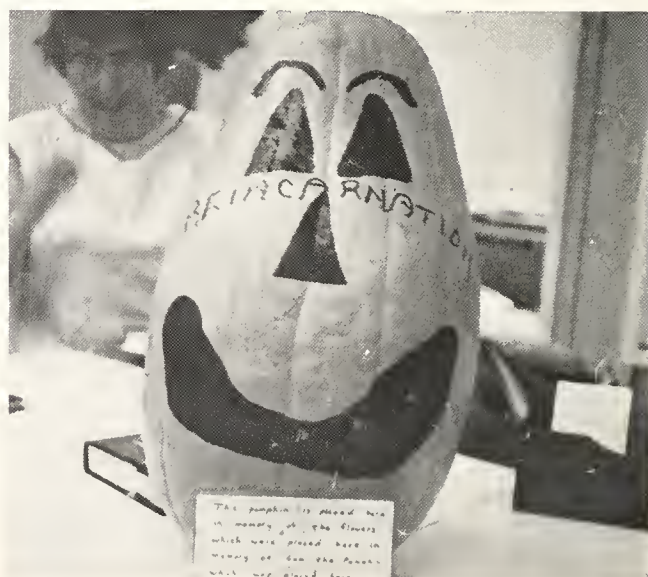

Oh, this hat is killing me!

Hallowe'en Dance

Money-hungry!!

In Memoriam.

Guest speaker - Dr. R.L. Porter from the U. of W.

"Heavy on the meatballs? ...Gotcha!"

"Fly little white dove, fly."

Saturnalia

Saturnalia '71 was certainly something to remember. Our guest speaker Dr. Porter filled us in on our film "Quo Vadis."

The chariot races and class skits were followed by a traditional Roman dinner served by none other than the teachers!! I'm sure anyone who was there would agree "erat vera res!"

Must we stop at the shoulder?

Jennifer Wittich, Patricia Brown, Cindy Melnichuck, Colleen Farr.

Charm, beauty, poise and personality are but a few characteristics of a true Snow Queen. The year 1972 was a difficult one for the judges of the contest, but a Queen was chosen to wear the crown. Patricia Brown, assisted by her princesses, Jennifer Wittich and Colleen Farr, reigned over the Winter Carnival. Among Pat's prizes were a Self-Improvement and Modelling Course at Cameo, a dinner for two at the Charcoal Steakhouse, and a beauty appointment at Capris Hairstyling.

Winter Carnival Memories

"Up, up with people ..."

Our big, burly, bewildered, bearded boys.

The new cheerleading squad?!!

"To everything there

We came.

We sang our morning songs.

We laughed.

We cried.

Our morning songs-lots of time.

Hey! I'm alive!!

A time for discovering reason,

purpose,
direction.

Touch me, touch me, life.

You! Time's up!

Let's go!

"To everything there is a season..."

the answer man

i went to the market place saturday to look for the answer man to buy some badly needed answers but when i got there
i couldn't find him
and when i stopped looking i found i was lost
so i sat down on a hard cold rock and cried
and while i was crying
a man came to me and told me he was selling answers
this week only
so like a fool
i believed him
and followed him
only to find later
he was not real
and only a question
in disguise.

Will your existence
be like the book
someone reads
chapter by chapter?
Then it's finished.

After it's all over
what difference will it make?
How did you change the world?

CO PEAT

Come into my little room,
Take my hand in yours,
Rest your head upon my shoulder,
Love me as one of your own,
Leave me but never forget me,
Live as you taught me to live.

Damn the band of murderers!
She is now, but another,
And yet, relieved of her heavy burden.
Now she is free!
At last she knows real life
Oh, could I feel her joy!

Just to hear her laugh,
To feel her radiating warmth,
To touch and hug and even cry,
To look and communicate and tease,
To see her waving frantically,
Chào êm, chào chi, chào êm...

THE BUTTERFLIES

...it's spring! and the butterflies, patterned and spotted, striped and dotted, flutter and flit from flower to flower, for hours and hours

LIFE

Life is waking us to the world
To find you are not
The only one
Who is lonely.

ELEGY TO LOUISE (she was three)

I sometimes considered as I watched you how preposterous, how unthinkable it was to imagine you dead.
There is an unimaginable depth in it.

Perhaps you are happy now, perhaps you laugh still but they are not for us these joys
You were so much a future
Your life was such an unconscious joy.

Your room is empty - gaping
An absence in our being
It is useless searching to express
The emptiness is

David Hall 13C

REALITY

Accept life for what it is,
Not for what it appears to be.
It may appear to be pure Hell,
Or it may appear to be pure Heaven.
But in reality it is a combination of Both.

TO A FRIEND

Now You are gone.

I'll try not to cry.

You taught me to laugh.

Well,

We never did get to Australia,

And

We never did climb a mountain

Or swim the channel,

But remember!

Remember how we discussed

Argued and fantasiyed

About girls?

And laughed till we were sick?

And imitated absent-minded professors?

It was flattering that you enjoyed my company.

I'll never see you again

But, remember I will.

I cannot see your eyes

But the twinkle is in my head.

And I cannot see your lips

But your smile

I'll always love.

And I marvel again

That I was your friend.

ONLY FOR ME

almost there. i can hear the water whispering and the sand is listening for me.
i come
bare-foot, blue-jeaned
openarmed.
touching the grass
i hear it speak
yet no one listens.
in the sunshine sky, trees
with bare feet, like me
stretch and bow
to step from limbo
and let their feet wander.
the earth is mine;
even life and death.
i'am alone here with the barefoot trees, but this is my place.
once a child of discipline, rules, limits, controls.
who sets society's pace?
who tells God what to do?
who breaks away?
a child of the barefoot trees.
me.

So much depends upon my pack of cigarettes
green pack friendly pleasant start for death

Brian Sim 13C

LIFE

Life is like going into a store.
You enter and want everything,
Until you look at the price.
But don't try to steal it.
Take too much of something good,
And you can't keep it--
For too long.

Life bumped into me today.
A man with a brief-case,
Forehead wrinkled with worry.
He said, "Watch where you are going."
And hurried proudly on.

Life is like a ghost town.
Flourished once--when things were good.
As soon as hard times came,
It died.

Andrew Hachborn 11C

LIFE DEATH AND LIFE

Life was once said to be a bowl of cherries;
Each cherry a different time of Life.
A time of Love,
A time of Hate,
A time of Happiness,
A time of Sorrow,
A time of Birth,
A time of Death.
But life doesn't just stop at death,
It continues on into Heaven.
So, why shed tears of sorrow when someone
dear to us dies?
Instead, rejoice and sing for they are now
happy with God in Heaven.

THE CLOWN

One day,
while I was at a fair,
I saw a clown.
He was funny,
very funny,
but nobody laughed.

With the covers of this book are memories. We hope that as you turn these pages you will relive the happiness, tension and school spirit of your days at E.D.S.S. Our aim has been to produce a yearbook such as this.

As editor, I would like to say "thanks a million" to everyone for their interest and encouragement. Without this, our '71-'72 Oracle would not exist.

I hope you will enjoy the contents of this book for everything within the covers was done for E.D.S.S.
